Trump Mobile was popped by BYOD

International Cyber Digest
@IntCyberDigest

‼️ BREAKING: Trump Mobile customers have had their personal data leaked by ransomware gang BYOD. The dump covers 3,615 people and includes names, emails, phone numbers, home addresses and order details.

The gang says the company answered news of the breach with "We have no team to handle this."

The leak includes the Trump Organization's own CIO, who oversees its information security.

People listed in the data confirmed their details are accurate and BYOD claims it still has access to Trump Mobile's backend, Straight Arrow News reports.
